Klamath vs Klallam

Last week we gathered facts about the Klamath River and the Elwha River from various sources. (National Geographic, Peninsula Daily News, Olympic National Park powerpoint on the Elwha River Restoration Project, and a video called, 'The last frontier') .

This week I want you to go over those notes that you took and the article from National Geographic and focus on the opinions that you hear from the various people who live and make a living on those two rivers.

An opinion cannot be proved.

An opinion merely expresses what some people think about a subject.

Your assignment is to choose to write about either the Klamath or the Elwha.

1. Think of at least two very different opinions about the Klamath River and write about them, describing them in detail.

2. Think of at least two very different opinions about the Elwha River and write about them, describing them in detail.

This paper should be two paragraphs or one page long, hand written.
